

Securing end of Key Stage standards in English and mathematics (IOW) 2023-24

A multi-session course to ensure teachers in Year 6 are prepared for statutory assessment in writing in the summer of 2024.

The course will include opportunities for staff in Year 6 to explore the current strengths of their children, whilst identifying the key next steps through high quality ongoing formative assessment. Gap tasks will ensure a precise focus on key areas and delegates will have opportunities to discuss and share the progress made by their children between sessions. This course will also provide an opportunity for schools early in the spring term to receive standardisation training based on key messages from the STA around end of Key Stage 2 writing assessment.

Key learning outcomes:

- Understand the assessment frameworks and statements for KS2.
- Understand the “Pupil can...” statements for the KS2 assessment framework.
- Identify gaps in children’s understanding, as well as their key starting points.
- Help teachers identify which children are on track to achieve the expected standard, which are not and implications for the curriculum and task design.
- Understand key messages from the STA in relation to end of key stage assessments and moderation.
- Identify any additional evidence required prior to making their End of Key Stage teacher assessments.
- Fill ‘gaps’ in their children’s learning and understand strategies to support this.
