

ECT Align Update

Congratulations!

We are delighted to share that an impressive 72% of you have successfully completed the programme orientation, and 56% of you have completed all the modules in this term's theme: Fostering and enabling conditions for learning.

These achievements reflect your commitment and enthusiasm for the programme - well done to you all! Your dedication sets a strong foundation for what's ahead.

For those of you who haven't yet completed the orientation or all the self study modules, there's still time. However, please don't feel pressured to spend the next few weeks 'catching up' – that's not the expectation. Focus on engaging with the upcoming activities at a pace that works for you.

Teachers who thrive in teaching, enjoy being with children and developing their practice are highly valued by us. We are continually inspired by the difference you make to pupils every day. Through strong relational approaches, you create safe and supportive environments where learners feel valued and ready to thrive. Your passion for pedagogy across all subject areas shines through in the way you engage, challenge, and motivate students. Most importantly, your deep understanding of what is needed to help children and young people secure their next stages in learning ensures that every pupil is equipped to progress with confidence. Thank you for your unwavering commitment to excellence and impact.

Event information

We know how important it is that you have an overview of events planned for you throughout the school year. MyECT does not display upcoming event information so instead we have shared this with you via email.

For delegates on the ECT Align 2025-27 programme, confirmation of your booked events was emailed to you upon completion of the event booking form. An overview of booked events has also been shared with your school's Induction lead. If you need a reminder, please email us at ECT.Align@hants.gov.uk.

Cameras and microphones on please

In your recent ECT Clinic 1, many of you were not able to access the camera and/or microphone on the device you were using. For your future events, please make sure ahead of time that the camera and microphone are working on the device you intend to use. If you are unable to access them during the clinic, you will need to leave the session and attend another on a device where both functions are operational. Please do check in advance as this will help avoid disruption and ensure a better experience for everyone. This is so that you can fully participate and also raise anything that will help specifically for you in your practice.

How can I access my event workbook?

All your event materials are available in your Steplab library. To access your workbooks, please follow the steps below:

- login to MyECT
- navigate to Steplab
- choose 'Library'
- choose 'ECT'
- choose 'ECT materials'
- choose 'ECTP Teacher Key Programme Resources (25-27 Cohort)'
- follow the prompts in the menu on the right hand side of the page to navigate to the workbook for your upcoming event

Engagement – what you need to do

We're often asked how often you are expected to complete the self study modules, and the answer is one module every two weeks throughout the term.

While it may be tempting to complete multiple modules in one go to avoid fitting self study into your busy timetable, the programme is designed to be completed regularly. This approach helps build your knowledge gradually and supports deeper understanding over time.

We regularly monitor engagement and may contact you via Steplab or MyECT - either to celebrate fantastic engagement or to check in if there are any gaps which present a concern. Our monitoring focuses solely on activity completed during the current term, meaning each term offers a fresh opportunity to maintain a positive trajectory or to reset and start anew if needed.

We hope you have a happy and healthy break over the festive period.

The ECT Align team will also be taking a break, and emails will not be monitored from Monday 22 December until Monday 5 January.
